Agencies Release 2024 Exemption Thresholds for HPML Appraisals, Regulations M and Z.

- The Bureau of Consumer Financial Protection (CFPB), Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System (FRB), and Office of the Comptroller of the Currency (OCC) issued a final rule to amend the official interpretations for their regulations that implement section 129H of the Truth in Lending Act (TILA). Section 129H of TILA establishes special appraisal requirements for higher-risk mortgages, termed higher-priced mortgage loans (HPMLs) in the agencies' regulations. OCC, FRB, FDIC, Federal Housing Finance Agency (FHFA), and National Credit Union Administration (NCUA) (collectively, the agencies) jointly issued final rules implementing this requirement, effective 01/18/2014. The agencies' rules exempted, among other loan types, transactions of $25,000 or less, and required that the loan amount be adjusted annually based on any annual percentage increase in the Consumer Price Index for Urban Wage Earners and Clerical Workers (CPI-W). If there is no annual percentage increase in the CPI-W, CFPB, FRB, and OCC will not adjust the exemption threshold from the prior year. Additionally, in years following a year in which the exemption threshold was not adjusted because the CPI-W decreased, the threshold is calculated by applying the annual percentage increase in the CPI-W to the dollar amount that would have resulted, after rounding, if the decreases and any subsequent increases in the CPI-W had been taken into account. Based on the CPI-W in effect as of 06/01/2023, the exemption threshold will increase from $31,000 to $32,400. The final rule is effective 01/01/2024. The final rule may be viewed at: <https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/FR-2023-11-29/pdf/2023-25047.pdf>. Federal Register, Vol. 88, No. 228, 11/29/2023, 83311-83316.
- The Bureau of Consumer Financial Protection (CFPB) and Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System (FRB) (collectively, the agencies) issued a final rule to amend the official interpretations and commentary for the agencies' regulations that implement the Consumer Leasing Act (CLA). The Dodd-Frank Act amended CLA by requiring that the dollar threshold for exempt consumer leases be adjusted annually by the annual percentage increase in the Consumer Price Index for Urban Wage Earners and Clerical Workers (CPI-W). Under regulations adopted by the agencies, if there is no annual percentage increase in the CPI-W, the agencies will not adjust the exemption threshold from the prior year. Additionally, in years following a year in which the exemption threshold was not adjusted because the CPI-W decreased, the threshold is calculated by applying the annual percentage change in the CPI-W to the dollar amount that would have resulted, after rounding, if the decreases and any subsequent increases in the CPI-W had been taken into account. Based on the annual percentage increase in the CPI-W as of 06/01/2023, the exemption threshold will increase from $66,400 to $69,500. The final rule is effective 01/01/2024. The final rule may be viewed at: <https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/FR-2023-11-29/pdf/2023-25049.pdf>. Federal Register, Vol. 88, No. 228, 11/29/2023, 83318-83322.

December 2023 Regulatory Report

- The Bureau of Consumer Financial Protection (CFPB) and Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System (FRB) (collectively, the agencies) issued a final rule to amend the official commentary interpretations and commentary for the agencies' regulations that implement the Truth in Lending Act (TILA). The Dodd-Frank Act amended TILA by requiring that the dollar threshold for exempt consumer credit transactions be adjusted annually by the annual percentage increase in the Consumer Price Index for Urban Wage Earners and Clerical Workers (CPI-W). Under regulations adopted by the agencies, if there is no annual percentage increase in the CPI-W, the agencies will not adjust the exemption threshold from the prior year. Additionally, in years following a year in which the exemption threshold was not adjusted because the CPI-W decreased, the threshold is calculated by applying the annual percentage change in the CPI-W to the dollar amount that would have resulted, after rounding, if the decreases and any subsequent increases in the CPI-W had been taken into account. Agencies Extend Comment Period on Long-Term Debt Requirement Proposal.

The Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System (FRB), Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC), and Office of the Comptroller of the Currency (OCC) (collectively, the agencies) extended the comment period for a proposed rule regarding long-term debt requirements. On 09/19/2023, the agencies published in the Federal Register a proposed rule to require certain large depository institution holding companies, U.S. intermediate holding companies of foreign banking organizations, and insured depository institutions, to issue and maintain outstanding a minimum amount of long-term debt. The agencies have determined that an extension of the comment period until 01/16/2024, is appropriate. CFPB Announces 2024 Maximum Allowable Charges for FCRA Disclosure.

The Bureau of Consumer Financial Protection (CFPB) issued a final rule to amend Appendix O to Regulation V, which implements the Fair Credit Reporting Act (FCRA). CFPB is required to calculate annually the dollar amount of the maximum allowable charge for disclosures by a consumer reporting agency to a consumer pursuant to section 609 of FCRA. Under section 609, a consumer reporting agency must, upon a consumer's request, disclose to the consumer information in the consumer's file. The final rule establishes the maximum allowable charge of $15.50 for the 2024 calendar year. The final rule is effective 01/01/2024. CFPB Seeks to Define a Market for General-Use Digital Consumer Payment Applications.

CFPB issued a proposed rule to define a market for general-use digital consumer payment applications. The proposed market would cover providers of funds transfer and wallet functionalities through digital applications for consumers' general use in making payments to other persons for personal, family, or household purposes. Examples include many consumer financial products and services that are commonly described as digital wallets, payment apps, funds transfer apps, person-to-person payment apps, P2P apps, and the like. Larger participants of the market would be subject to CFPB's supervisory authority under the Consumer Financial Protection Act (CFPA). The proposed rule is the sixth in a series of rulemakings to define larger participants of markets for consumer financial product and services for purposes of CFPA. Comments are due 01/08/2024. The proposed rule may be viewed at: <https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/FR-2023-11-17/pdf/2023-24978.pdf>. Federal Register, Vol. 88, No. 221, 11/17/2023, 80197-80216.

FRB Revises Rules Regarding Delegation of Authority.

The Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System (FRB) issued a final rule to revise its Rules Regarding Delegation of Authority to add delegations of authority previously approved by FRB and make certain technical corrections. FRB's delegation rules implement section 11(k) of the Federal Reserve Act and enumerate the actions that FRB has determined to delegate. By delegating actions that do not raise significant legal, supervisory, or policy issues, FRB can respond more efficiently to applications, requests, and other matters. The final rule is effective 11/17/2023. The final rule may be viewed at: <https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/FR-2023-11-17/pdf/2023-25387.pdf>. Federal Register, Vol. 88, No. 221, 11/17/2023, 80108-80109.

FRB Issues Final Risk-Based Capital Requirements for Bank Holding Companies Significantly Engaged in Insurance Activities.

FRB issued a final rule to adopt risk-based capital requirements for depository institution holding companies that are significantly engaged in insurance activities. The risk-based capital framework, termed the Building Block Approach, adjusts and aggregates existing legal entity capital requirements to determine enterprise-wide capital requirements. The final rule also contains a risk-based capital requirement excluding insurance activities, in compliance with section 171 of the Dodd-Frank Act. FRB also adopted reporting form FR Q-1 related to the Building Block Approach. The capital requirements and associated reporting form meet statutory mandates and will help to prevent the economic and consumer impacts resulting from the failure of organizations engaged in banking and insurance. The final rule is effective 01/01/2024. The final rule may be viewed at: <https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/FR-2023-11-27/pdf/2023-23911.pdf>. Federal Register, Vol. 88, No. 226, 11/27/2023, 82950-82980.

FRB Establishes Threshold for Reserve Bank Capital Stock Dividend Rate.

FRB issued a final rule that applies an inflation adjustment to the threshold for total consolidated assets in Regulation I. Federal Reserve Bank (Reserve Bank) stockholders that have total consolidated assets above the threshold receive a different dividend rate on Reserve Bank stock than stockholders with total consolidated assets at or below the threshold. The Federal Reserve Act requires that FRB annually adjust the total consolidated asset threshold to reflect the change in the Gross Domestic Product Price Index, published by the Bureau of Economic Analysis. Based on the change in the Gross Domestic Product Price Index as of 09/28/2023, the total consolidated asset threshold will be $12,517,000,000 through 12/31/2024. The final rule is effective 12/29/2023. The final rule may be viewed at: <https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/FR-2023-11-29/pdf/2023-26213.pdf>. Federal Register, Vol. 88, No. 228, 11/29/2023, 83317-83318.

FRB Amends Reserve Requirements.

FRB issued a final rule to amend Regulation D, Reserve Requirements of Depository Institutions, to reflect the annual indexing of the reserve requirement exemption amount and the low reserve tranche for 2024. The annual indexation is required notwithstanding FRB's action in March 2020 of setting all reserve requirement ratios to zero. The reserve requirement exemption amount for 2023 will remain $36.1 million, unchanged for 2024, consistent with the Federal Reserve Act. FRB has amended Regulation D to set the amount of the low reserve tranche at $644.0 million (decreased from $691.7 million in 2023). The adjustment to the low reserve tranche is derived using a statutory formula specified in the Act. The annual indexation of the reserve requirement exemption amount and low reserve tranche is required by statute but will not affect depository institutions' reserve requirements, which will remain zero. The final rule is effective 12/29/2023. The final rule may be viewed at: <https://www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/FR-2023-11-29/pdf/2023-26212.pdf>. Federal Register, Vol. 88, No. 228, 11/29/2023, 83316-83317.

FRB issued a notice to announce the approved private-sector adjustment factor for 2024 of $29.2 million and the 2024 fee schedules for Federal Reserve priced services and electronic access. The actions were taken in accordance with the Monetary Control Act, which requires that, over the long run, fees for Federal Reserve priced services be established based on all direct and indirect costs, including the private-sector adjustment factor. See the notice for the listing of fees and calculations. The new fee schedules are effective 01/02/2024. The notice may be viewed at:

FRB Issues Proposed Rule on Debit Card Interchange Fees and Routing.

FRB issued a proposed rule to revise debit card interchange fees and routing. Regulation II implements a provision of the Dodd-Frank Act that requires FRB to establish standards for assessing whether the amount of any interchange fee received by a debit card issuer is reasonable and proportional to the cost incurred by the issuer with respect to the transaction. Under the current rule, for a debit card transaction that does not qualify for a statutory exemption, the interchange fee can be no more than the sum of a base component of 21 cents, an ad valorem component of 5 basis points multiplied by the value of the transaction, and a fraud-prevention adjustment of 1 cent if the issuer meets certain fraud-prevention-standards. FRB developed the current interchange fee cap in 2011 using data voluntarily reported to FRB by large debit card issuers concerning transactions performed in 2009. Since that time, data collected by FRB every other year on a mandatory basis from large debit card issuers show that certain costs incurred by the issuers have declined significantly; however, the interchange fee cap has remained the same. For this reason, FRB proposes to update all three components of the interchange fee cap based on the latest data reported to FRB by large debit card issuers. Further, FRB proposes to update the interchange fee cap every other year going forward by directly linking the interchange fee cap to data from FRB's biennial survey of large debit card issuers. FRB also proposes a set of technical revisions to Regulation II.
